

Top Comedy Will Open LT Season

OCT 10 1969

Armede Brown and Edward Gronberg play the lead roles in "The Impossible Years," a modern comedy dealing with the generation gap, to be presented eight evenings at Little Theater of Jamestown, 18 E. 2nd St.

The play, first effort of LT's new fulltime director, Gil Brand, opens Thursday and will be repeated Friday and Saturday, and Wednesday, Oct. 22, through Saturday, Oct. 26.

Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. every evening, except closing night when the play will get underway at 7:30 p.m. Reservations are being taken now at L.T. box office.

This is the final play on last season's tickets. As an added attraction for the current production, new members may make a down payment on 1969-70 season tickets and see "The Impossible Years" for $1.

Filling out the cast for the Bob Fisher-Arthur Marx comedy are Debbie Nowell, Don Miller, Joy Ann Williams, Mark and Dave Ebersole, Bob Schlick, Christine Marsh, John Ireland, Steig Olson, George Hartley and Carol Lewis.
