

Last LT Play In Scottish Rite Opens Friday Night

FEB 12 1969

Little Theater of Jamestown will mark opening and closing events this week when Edgar Lee Masters' "Spoon River Anthology" opens Friday at the Scottish Rite Temple, closing Little Theater performances at that location.

Little Theater has announced that the April production will mark the opening of the theater's new quarters in the old Shea's Theater Bldg. on East Second Street.

"Spoon River Anthology" is a series of poetic monologues with Carol Lewis, Kathryn V. Smith, James A. Pierce and Dave Ebersole in the lead roles.

Music has been adapted by Miss Alice Jean Hoffman, a member of the music department at Frewsburg Central School, and Roger Gates.

Mrs. Smith, Gates and Ebersole are making their first appearances in an LT production. Mrs. Lewis and Pierce are well known to area theater audiences for past performances.

Paul W. Weinbach is directing the 190th production of the 32nd LT season. Leland B. Ward is handling stage settings.

Curtain time Friday, Monday, Tuesday, Feb. 18; Thursday, Feb. 20; and Friday, Feb. 21, is 8:30 p.m.

Two performances are scheduled Saturday, Feb. 15 and Feb. 22, starting at 6 p.m. and 9:30 p.m.

Curtain time closing night, Sunday, Feb. 23, is 7:30 p.m.
