Lucille Ball Will Tell Own Story of Success

Jamestown's Own Radio and TV Star Writes for Post-Journal

Lucille Ball, famed film star and television comedienne, will return to Jamestown, her home town, for a three-day visit beginning Thursday—and although she will not appear in person she will be here in spirit.

LUCILLE BALL MEETS WOUNDED MARINE—During her 1944 visit to Jamestown, Miss Ball was introduced to Sgt. Lawrence Eddy, son of Mrs. Bertha Gallagher, 9 Crescent Street. The Marine had suffered a broken back in a plane crash on a small Pacific island. They are shown exchanging reminiscences in the Hotel Jamestown coffee shop. Sergeant Eddy is now a chief engineer in a Los Angeles industrial plant. He is married to the former Elaine Curtis of Kennedy and they have a two-year-old daughter. —Post-Journal Stafffoto
