

TEACHERS BECOME STUDENTS FOR DAY

SAT OCT 13 2001

Speaker Suggests Community Treasure Hunts

By STEPHEN W.
HOUGHTON II

Children can learn about local and natural history in an exciting way by the use of educational treasure hunts, said Steve Glazer, Valley Quest/development coordinator for Vital Communities.

Glazer was the keynote speaker Friday during the Roger Tory Peterson Institute's "Conference on Education and the Environment of the Chautauqua-Allegheny Region."

See SPEAKER on Page A-3

Student teachers Danielle Cammarata, left, from Forestville Elementary School, and Karen Makuch, from Silver Creek Central School, look through materials while attending a conference Friday at the Jamestown Audubon Nature Center.

P-J photo by Valory S. Isaacson