always changing. They are a different experience for everyone and that makes it fascinating," she said.

David Shepherd is an assistant to State Representative William Parment, D-North Harmony, and earned his master's degree in public policy at the University of Wisconsin. He returns to the Civic Center board, having previously served six years, three of them as president.

"I'm delighted to once again be part of the center's endeavors. It's an important presence in downtown Jamestown," he said.

Charles Thompson is a certified public accountant and senior manager at Lloyd and Co. He earned his bachelor's degree in accounting from Penn State University and is pleased to be a civic center board member. Thompson said the arts add balance to the life of his family. He is also chairman of the Buildings and Ground Committee of the Boys and Girls Club and is a coach and adviser for Jamestown Area Youth Soccer.
