

APR 19 1957

CAREFUL NOW—Arthur Bentley, an employe of the Davis Roofing Company, perches on his trapeze, four flights above the street, as he gets set to do some siding work at the Maddox Table Company, 101 Harrison Street. In photo (left) pedestrians, carrying umbrella, cross street, unmindful of the high-flying workman.

—Post-Journal Staff photo