ANNOUNCEMENT.

The preparation of the Jamestown City Directory for the year 1890, has been attended with many unforeseen difficulties not necessary to enumerate.

None save those who have had experience in the compilation of similar publications can have any conception of the many obstacles to be overcome, and the minute attention that must be devoted to details, in order that the result may give—not universal satisfaction, for that is impossible—but the least possible cause for unfriendly criticism.

The directory of 1888 gave 6,651 names; the Directory for 1890 contains 7,187 names, an increase of 536. This is indicative of an increase of population, during the two years, of 1,608, and a present population of 21,561, figuring on a basis of three persons to the name.

Our advertisers represent leading business men and firms of the city, to whom we most cheerfully commend the patronage of those under whose observation these pages may come.

We thank our many patrons and friends for their cordiality in seconding our efforts, and take this opportunity to express the hope that the information found in these pages may prove invaluable.
