PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT

This issue of The Journal's directory of Jamestown, Falconer, Celoron and Lakewood is on the same general lines as the book of two and four years ago, the style and arrangement of which gave good satisfaction to the public. The map of the city has been corrected and improved, and in making the canvass the names of residents 18 years of age or over only, unless independently employed, were sought. In previous issues the youthful limit was fixed at 16. Notwithstanding this change, the alphabetical list of Jamestown in this book shows an increase of about 800, or a total of about 13,900 names, which shows beyond any question of doubt that Jamestown is growing. The changes in location of Jamestown's population in the past two years have been numerous and emphasize somewhat the need of issuing the directory more frequently than once in two years. This cannot be done, however, without the hearty support of patrons. Any time this can be assured, The Journal will undertake the work. The growth of the city adds in many ways to the expense of issuing the directory without a corresponding increase in the revenue. The inquiry has sometimes been made if it is not possible to furnish a good directory at less than the present subscription price of $3. In answer to this, it can be stated that there are few cities the size of Jamestown where as complete a book as is furnished in this city is supplied at less than this price and there are many instances where the price is greater. Publication of the book does not yield an adequate profit to its publishers considering the time, expense and painstaking care applied to it. The matter of public spirit and pride in furnishing a reliable directory enters fully as much into the question as the profit to be secured. Notwithstanding the great amount of care exercised in gathering and compiling information, that there will be errors of omission and commission discovered is to be expected. It is impossible to keep account of all the changes from the time the canvass is made until the book is issued, although a good deal of attention is given to this feature. It is suggested that subscribers note the changes contained in the Addenda and make the corrections in the proper places in their book for convenience in reference.

The patronage and support extended to the directory is gratefully acknowledged.

City of Jamestown.

Jamestown is situated near the southern boundary of Chautauqua county and about six miles from the Pennsylvania state line. It was founded by James Prendergast in whose honor it was named in 1815. It was incorporated as a village in 1827 and as a city in 1886.

From its earliest history it has been an active manufacturing and commercial center and has the advantage of being situated in the center of one of the principal agricultural and dairying sections of New York state. It has grown rapidly in population and commercial importance within the past 30 years. In 1870 its population was 5,337; in 1880 it was 9,350, and in 1890 it had increased to 16,038. The state census of 1892 gave 18,627 and by the United States census of 1900 it had 22,892. A conservative estimate of the population in 1903 is 25,000.

Jamestown is justly called the City of Homes, a larger percentage of its residents owning their homes than can be found in any other city in the state. The municipality owns a large and completely equipped electric light plant which not only provides street lights for all parts of the city, but furnishes incandescent lights for its public buildings and for business houses at remarkably low rates. It has in operation a sewer system which extends along nearly every street in the city and its principal business streets are paved with shale brick of excellent quality which are manufactured within the corporate limits. In addition to a magnificent high school building it has 11 excellent district branch schools, and its educational system is regarded as a model among the educators of the state. There are 20 churches and several chapels within the city, where religious services are held regularly.

On April 1, 1903, the municipality took possession of the water plant of the city, having acquired it by purchase from the Jamestown Water Supply Co. for $600,000, issuing its bonds for this amount to provide for the payment. It is expected that the receipts of the plant will meet the expenses and accumulate a sinking fund to gradually retire the bonds. The source of water supply is artesian wells located about three miles east of Jamestown and few cities are so well supplied, both as regards quality and quantity of water.

There are about 175 manufacturing establishments in the city, the output consisting largely of woolen and worsted goods, furniture of many kinds, and boots and shoes. The estimated value of the product of its manufacturing is placed at $10,000,000 annually, a large percentage of which is paid out for labor. Its banking facilities are of the best, the financial interests of its people being taken care of by one national bank, two trust companies and two state banks. There has never been a bank failure in the city.

Jamestown is connected with several great railway systems. It is an important station on the main New York and Chicago line of the Erie railroad and is the southern terminus of the Buffalo and Southwestern division of the Erie. It is joined to the Lake Shore, Nickel Plate and Pennsylvania railroads, by the Jamestown, Chautauqua and Lake Erie line recently extended from Mayville, the county seat, to Westfield, 32 miles distant from Jamestown. Jamestown is also reached by the Dunkirk, Allegheny Valley and Pittsburg railroad, a leased line of the Lake Shore system, by electric car from Falconer, an adjoining village.

As a residence city Jamestown is without a rival. Being located at the extreme southeastern end of Chautauqua lake, concededly the most attractive body of water in the United States, its people come in touch with all points of interest along the lake, which are reached by steamboat, trolley and steam cars. The healthfulness of the city is proverbial, many people coming here from different parts of the world on account of the delightful climate and exhilarating atmosphere. Its free public library, its perfectly appointed hospital, its many religious and social organizations, all lend their influence toward giving it an attractiveness and a charm that can be found nowhere else.

The assessed valuation of property within the city of Jamestown for the year 1903 is as follows: Real estate, $10,198,395; personal, $475,350; franchises, $403,510. The city tax rate for 1903 is $13.44 per $1,000 of valuation. This does not include the school tax which usually approximates one-half the amount of the city tax. The state and county tax is usually about one-fourth the city tax.

The bonded indebtedness of the city on March 1, 1903, was as follows: Electric light bonds, $61,000; fire building bonds, $16,000; City Hall bonds, $65,000; sewer bonds, $296,000; enabling act bonds, $5,000. A total of $503,800. In addition there is outstanding, $5,250 of certificates of indebtedness and paving certificates of $81,120, payable by abutting property. On April 1 the city issued its bonds for $600,000 to pay for the water plant.

The Journal's Jamestown Street and Block Directory.

EXPLANATION—The left side of the street is given first then the right. The directory gives the exact location of any house on any street. For instance, if you wish to find the residence of Charles M. Dow, the alphabetical directory shows you that his house (h) is 72 Allen. Turn to Allen street and you will find 72 is on the right and south side of the street, and is the last house before Foote avenue intersects.

This comprehensive system of street directory is arranged alphabetically and numerically, and is a guide to every building in the city and to the intersections of all streets.

The description of streets is given for the distance to which they are actually opened, as in some cases they have not been opened as far as laid out on the map.

Streets on which there are no buildings are not given.

By resolution of the council, Sept. 23, 1895, Steele street begins at Brooklyn square.

The council later passed a resolution extending Barrett avenue, or Barrett street, as it is commonly called, to Steele street, but as there are only four houses on the avenue below its junction with Baker street, and as those houses are numbered on Baker street, and the houses on Barrett avenue are numbered from its junction with Baker street, it has been deemed advisable in order to avoid the trouble or re-numbering all the buildings in the street to describe Barrett avenue, or street, as starting from Baker street.

Although by resolution of the council about ten years ago, Fairmount avenue was extended from the boatlanding bridge to the city limits the name Ashville avenue has been used in the directory in accordance with the street signs and the expressed wish of the people.

THE JOURNAL

Has been the FOREMOST FAMILY PAPER of Jamestown and Chautauqua County. At this time the combined issues of its Daily and Semi-Weekly go into the homes of 8,400 subscribers. This large constituency has been gained by publishing a clean, reliable and newsy paper, catering to no one class but fair to all. As an advertising medium The Journal has no equal in its territory.
